

English Names for Butterflies.

19. Papilio Antiopa.—The Camberwell Beauty.

The well known English name, worth importing, although local, and having a special significance for England only. It has also been called the Mourning Cloak, an expressive name, but translated from the German.

20. Aglais Milberti.—The nettle Tortoise-shell.

Called Milbert's butterfly by Harris, and the forked butterfly by Gosse, the last in allusion to the name given by Say. The caterpillar feeds, as is well known, on nettle.

21. Vanessa Atalanta.—The red Admiral.

The English name.

22. Vanessa Huntera.—The painted Beauty.

A name well proposed by Gosse, indicating its relation to the next species. Harris simply called it Hunter's butterfly.

23. Vanessa cardui.—The painted Lady.

The English name for this cosmopolitan butterfly. Harris called it the thistle butterfly.

24. Junonia Cœnia.—The Buckeye.

Mr. Behrens says this is an English name for this insect. I have never heard of it, and give it only on his testimony. S. H. Scudder.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL RECORD.

Authors and Societies are requested to forward their works to the Editor at the earliest date possible. We ask our readers to inform us of the publication especially of those works which are not generally consulted by entomologists. B. Pickman Mann.
