

REPORT ON ENDANGERED AND THREATENED PLANT SPECIES OF THE UNITED STATES

The Smithsonian Institution's Report on Endangered and Threatened Plant Species of the United States has been presented to Congress and published by the Government Printing Office. Contained in the 200-page Report are lists of endangered, threatened, commercially exploited and recently extinct species of the United States (including Alaska and Hawaii), as well as recommendations for the preservation and protection of these species. Listings of endangered and threatened species arranged alphabetically by States are included. A limited number of complimentary copies of the Report are available, upon written request, from: Endangered Flora Project, Department of Botany, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C. 20560.
