Dear Sir

I have just completed the examination of the Poly petalaæ collected by my father and myself last season and have sent them with a few other plants to you to-day. We would be very glad if when you have leisure you would determine for us the species to which I enclose a list - returning the list - at any time send you specimens of species of which you would like additional specimens for distribution I shall be pleased when possible to send them to you

yours sincerely

Jas. W. MacLean
