AS

London. Aug. 20. 1887

My dear Watson,

As I am writing to Harlow (who has kindly sent me 2 letters) I will thank you for your last kind letter, received yesterday.

If the 2 copies of Elements ever got to Kew, they must have gone to Dyce, who was away on vacation, and he must have neglected sending them over to Harlow. I have not seen D. for months - may or may not reach.

I must drop a line to the negligent Bureau about your sendings.

Do you hear any thing of Baird's health, or sickness Somehow I take for granted that Mrs. ~~Allice~~ my niece you are kept informed of our movements &c. as Mrs. Brown's which you do not know or send Mr. will be boxed up or put so May do not breed worms

If there is any thing I ought to look to in or near London, now is the time to let me know - that I may attend to it when necessaries from 16 to 22 Sept. -

Kindly remember us to your sister - & to George if you see him. He has been very kind, as he always is. I am fellow. in letters, etc. to Yours ever A. Gray

joined - letters got round to her. But now Alice is away I suppose. We are just back from a charming trip thru. Wimmerly, with Mr Harker's, whom we left there. Now, from there as a centre we are ~~making~~ ^{travelling} little visits to friends.
But in 8 or 9 days must be in Manchester to the Brit. Ass. Meeting. - from thence two most accompanying visits - then back to London - a few days with Oliver at Ken, and with Harker at The Camps, & then for home, gladly,

I suppose all the Mamm "debris" & other loose loose loose - lying plants,
