

Maplehurst Farm,
Lancaster, Mass., Oct. 29. 1912

Dear Mr. Deane

I always turn to you when in trouble. Here is my story. A man in the village, in digging a cellar, found a Pine-tree shilling, dated 1652. He wants me to buy it and I don't know what it is worth, although I know it is very rare. Don't you know of anyone that is up in coins?

We are looking forward to the A. O. U., including King Edward. I only hope that it will be a good day.

Sincerely
J. L. I.

Thayer, John Eliot. 1912. "Thayer, John Eliot Oct. 29, 1912." Walter Deane correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/252841>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/270572>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.