Dear Walter,

I arrived here yesterday & found a big stack of mail, including yrs. of Feb 20 also the one telling of the arrival of the mangroves. These are nothing at all, but I thought you might be interested.
I expected you to plant the mangroves & water them with salt water, and to have the Spanish moss - which I suspect is more of an air plant than a parasite although I believe it is both - from the palm Chandeliers and disperse the other air plants - which are called pineapples in Florida - about the room & water them all grow and blossom. Apparently your botanical soul yearns after their names and their safe inclusion in a historical press.

Thank you for yr letter. Yes, Many Jan me a good account of the Mr. vine, and I shall soon scuddle off a letter to Bangs telling of my peripinatins since.

I arrived here yesterday have not yet seen a Loxomale Spawner but have hopes,

Yours as ever

Charles W. Townsend.
Redrider.
