

Malden., Mass., Nov. 6, 1899.

Dear Mr Collins,

I have run over the specimens you gave me Friday evening, and enclose a list showing the best I can do with them. As you will see, there are a number that I have had to give up, they are either immature, ~~or~~ too far gone, or too ~~many~~ kinds are in one bottle.

I am sorry I could do no more, but perhaps what I have succeeded in doing may have some interest for you.

Did you want the bottles returned?² I should like to have specimens in some form to represent the species in my collection.

Very Truly,

Frank S. Collins
