

Your namesake F. S. Collins gave us an instructive and bright talk. won't be!

Ever

Walter Deane,

29 Brewster Street
Cambridge Mass.

April 7, 1909.

Dear brother Collins.

Your very neat little key came to-day and I thank you very much for it.
It is a handy little volume and should be a great help to summer people on vacation. I thought I would try the Wops Boubeaux and so the tree from remembrance - I couldn't exactly remember the side veins, ^{and called them} curving, and landed at 53 where a note on the Hop Hombear made pleased me -

I shall write to Preston and thank him too, and also order a few copies for friends. The price isn't given - I'll put out -

I am just through a great Thanksgiving. We are deep in Petersburg. It's very interesting, but there's no end of work in it.
You must have lost a lot of work into your bag and I shall work it and tell you how it goes -

Deane, Walter. 1909. "Deane, Walter Apr. 7, 1909." James Franklin Collins correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/258625>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/273827>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

Andrew W. Mellon Foundation

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.