

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

PHILADELPHIA

THE COLLEGE

BOTANY

November 14, '91

My Dear Prof. Collins:-

I am indebted to you for several papers notably those dealing with arbor day in Rhode Island. I am glad to have them and I have gotten several new suggestions from reading them. Such educational work cannot fail to stimulate an interest in trees and forestry. I had hoped to have you at dinner some day when you were in Philadelphia, and perhaps we can arrange it yet. The good work of studying the chestnut blight seems to be progressing favorably.

The scientific work seems to be getting into shape at the university.

With best regards.

Very sincerely yours,

John W. Harshberger.
