

Dresden 20 Sept

My dear Sir,

Your two letters were duly received.

I was sorry to miss seeing you and Mrs. Kennedy in Berlin, for I had planned one or two excursions of botanical interest.

For instance, on Saturday, Watson and I went with Professor and Mrs. Drude to a hill and a bath near Löschowitz, and lunched in the German fashion. Mrs. D. would have made Mrs. Kennedy very much at home. The weather is delightful and cool, and of course we are enjoying ourselves very nearly as much as is possible. I always make a mental reservation of this kind, for my good wife is not with me, and I never thoroughly enjoy a journey without her.

We expect to go to two or three unfrequented places in Saxon Switzerland to-day and tomorrow, thence to Bavaria and Württemberg, afterwards to the upper Rhine.

I am glad you visited the garden in Leyden. It is my favorite garden, and the director, Professor Surijar, is one of my warmest friends. If I had known you were to be in L. I should have given you a note to the Professor. It would have charmed him to invite you and Mrs K. to his most hospitable home.

Please remember me kindly to Mrs Kennedy, and accept for yourself all good wishes from yours very faithfully
J. L. Goodale

Goodale, George L. 1886. "Goodale, George L. 20 Sept 1886." George Golding Kennedy correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/172898>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/284670>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.