

My dear Mr. Brown

This is only a line to tell you that the "Gulliver's travels" is safely here, & I thank you very much for entrusting me with so valuable a book which I hope to return to you very soon - I cannot find the date of publication but see it was edited by John Thomas Walter born in 1810 in the old book the date of his death is not given nor is he in the Encyc. Brit., which surprises me, but in Everyman's Library "Dict. of Eng. Lit." it gives the date 1810 - 1894 as I wish to let, and I think from the 'make up' of the book it belongs to the early fifties, what beautiful print and paper and I love the bordered pages, which as I am told very poor taste. I need hardly tell you I will return it before long & will be very careful of it.

The snow has been rather miserable of late & put it on the weather which can't defend itself - We hope you keep well as spring is coming, robins, blue birds & song sparrows give us heart of grace - Our regards to Mrs. Brown & aff. greetings to you - Sincerely Th. R. Audet March 26, 1932.

Audubon, Maria R. 1922. "Audubon, Maria R Mar. 26, 1922." Walter Deane correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/164234>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/288388>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.