

Putland, Vt.; Feb. 5, 1900.

My dear Mr. Deane,

I express (prepaid) a package containing about 115 sheets. Have added some 35 or 40 that you did not order, some that ^{you} have not received from me of a few that are in better condition. I shall try to get the Crataegus in flower for you. It looks as though that Crataegus coccinea was going to prove more of a treasure trove for new species than Antennaria plantaginifolia.

Certainly Dr. Sargent has a big snarl to clear up there. Our Lake Champlain valleys is a perfect garden of both Crataegus
and Antennaria.

I recently sent Mr. Williams a large package, something like a thousand sheets.

This set is worth $8.00.

Yours truly
W. W. Eggleston
