Williamstown, Mass.
June 29, 1901.

Mr. Geo. Davenport,

My dear Sir,

I have "borrowed" some of my specimens of Botrychium simplex and send them on for your inspection, to establish my reputation for veracity.
Thanks for identification of the other specimens which I sent you. I think you will find these specimens beyond any question good B. simplex.

As I stated before they were found in New Ashford in pasture near brook. None were larger than those which I send.

Truly yours,
A. L. Roy Andrews

Andrews, Albert LeRoy. 1901. "Andrews, A. LeRo Jun. 29, 1901." George Edward Davenport correspondence
