

recd
Aug 25

Silver Lake, N. H.

August 3, 1924

? (August 23)

Dear Walter

Glad to get your card. No doubt the rod is what you name it though it gave me trouble. I have forgotten all I ever knew about botany but I cannot help taking an interest in the enticing things that adorn the waste places. Unfortunately I am packing up for home and shall not be able to properly press and forward a specimen as you desire. But there will be another year and I hope to be here. My man has just bought a camp site under the shadow of Chiornia, and the view from our porch is surpassingly beautiful with three ranges in sight and no apparent end to the coniferous forest that stretches away between us. The fall flora is coming in with great profusion of a few dominant forms, especially golden rod. There appears to be no end to the wood roads and trails that constantly divide the steps of the forest cover. On the whole I have never seen anything finer or more satisfactory. There are several Howard men whose camps are within easy reach, Colters for instance whose camp is some three miles away over beyond a ridge or two. Possessor of a good car one is within easy calling distance of them all the cultivation of neighbor is not exactly the motive which has sent men to the mountain and forest.

Your herbarium has reached an astounding number and you must have difficulty in finding new forms. However that is only one of the forms of pleasure which attract the botanist.

I hear that Ruth is where he always is in summer and no doubt he is enjoying himself as usual with golf. It is some time since I heard from him but writing does not get any easier as the ^{years} rolls by and it takes two to correspond.

I have no idea of the kind of a place Sherburne is,
but presume it is like the majority of New Hampshire resorts with an abundance of forest and a plenty of mountains. I should like mighty well to see the shrubby and early summer flora of the state. See if my in-cisions have been in full when the compositæ rather crowd out their compeers.

I shall be back in Worthington early the coming week, and shall be glad to hear from you whenever have a spare moment.

Sincerely yours
Henry W. Henshaw

Henshaw, Henry W. 1924. "Henshaw, Henry Wetherbee Aug. 3, 1924." Walter Deane correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/159798>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/291195>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.