

Readville, Mass.

31 Jan 88.

My dear Lili

I guess I shall have to give up my glabella.
My friend Walter Deane was out here one evening he did not think any of my specimens were that, tho he said he wished you could see some of them.
When I have time - just now I am unusually busy at my Roxbury office - I hope to get my ferns up a bit and it would give me great pleasure if I could show them to you, or if you could spend the afternoon or evening out here, it would be a rare treat for me,

Since I saw you I have been to Europe & back on a very sad errand, my father's illness and my mother's death so that I have had hardly a moment for botanical work or talk, but I hope to have more leisure as the Spring advances.

Very truly yours
Geo. L. Kennedy

Kennedy, George G. 1888. "Kennedy, George G. 31 Jan 1888." George Edward Davenport correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/174276>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/292671>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.