Mr. Walter Deane,
29 Brewster Street,
Cambridge, Massachusetts.

My dear Mr. Deane:

I came back from New York Monday night and found your very kind letter awaiting me. I am sorry to hear that you have been sick, but I trust that you are now quite well again.

With regard to the stamps, please do not think of paying for them. In fact, I have not the least recollection of the amount; at the most it was only a trifle. This you can readily understand when I tell you that my common tip to the dining room waiter was 5 pesos.

I think it will be better to give the entire set to one person, as the set is complete as far as it goes, and it will be too bad to break it. I find that George has some other duplicates and these I am enclosing, along with a Peruvian dollar stamp, which I think some one of your young friends will find very interesting.

Yours very truly,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "J. H. Rose". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a large loop at the beginning and a long, sweeping tail.

Rose, J. N. 1915. "Rose, Joseph Nelson Jan. 28, 1915." Joseph Nelson Rose letters to Walter Deane
