

After he learned that you would be there he was especially anxious to go - but I fancy he will spend some time there before the end of the year.

Sincerely

Saml. Rose.

[Mrs. J. W. Rose]

Aug. 21 '98.

Washington D.C.

My dear Mr. France:

I do not think Mr.
Rose tells you half enough about our dear little boy.

His hair is quite heavy and a real golden.
He is so strong he raises himself on his elbows and laughs nearly all the time.
I think he has the very sweetest smile - he nearly always answers a word or even a look with a beautiful smile.

He gets about over the floor by rolling -

He has two teeth - long pearls they look like and twice they are - for he departed from the usual custom of taking and curl two teeth at once.

This is enough to convince us of his superiority!!

I am quite sure he knows his name for he turns his head when any one says "Walter Deane".

He is the playmate of little Martha now and the idol of the others. You and Mrs Deane must see him before very long.

Please give Mrs Deane my love. We have had quite a comfortable summer in this warm city and party have flourished. I was so sorry Mr. Deane could not go to the meeting of the American Association.

Rose, Lou Sims. 1898. "Rose, Lou Beatrice Sims Aug. 21, 1898." Joseph Nelson Rose letters to Walter Deane

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/160655>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/297742>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.