

1
Ned & wife
July 20/28

1812 CALVERT STREET
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Feb. 17. 1928.

Dear Mr. Heane:

I am sure you will be most sorry to learn that my dear husband has been in failing health all winter - He has had a number of physicians here and been subjected to many tests & rays and so on.
The Dr. here is not very encouraging and at last Mr. Rose has consented to go to Johns Hopkins Hospital
in Baltimore and place himself

1812 CALVERT STREET

WASHINGTON, D. C.

under the care of Dr. Long cope one of the leading Doctors there.

He left tonight.

It seems almost unbelievable
that he who has always been so well and strong should be so ill.
He has not been confined to the house but has gone to the office
each day - but that has been all that he could do.

We have had a busy and anxious winter - with his illness and the care of his four children.

Please remember us to Miss Brown.
Very sincerely
J. J. J.

1812 CALVERT STREET

WASHINGTON, D. C.

We lost a great deal of money
in Florida and have turned his energies in another direction
but it is slow work.

So we are trying to help as best we can by having the children here
and sending them to school.

They are dear children and we love them very much but they are a care.

I hope you are very well.

We think of you and talk of you very often. The family joins me in love

Rose, Lou Sims. 1928. "Rose, Lou Beatrice Sims Feb. 17, 1928." Joseph Nelson Rose letters to Walter Deane

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/160655>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/297765>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.