

926 Grant Ave
Rockford Ills.
April 15th /91

My dear Mr Deane:-

About a month ago I came out from my study - closing the door behind me with the feeling that pretty much everythin' that I had set out to do through the winter had been done - for a wonder - and as it was nearing the time for spring operations in the garden I would not make any fresh beginnungs in botanical work - By some mysterious coincidence my friends all dropped me completely at the same time - so that I did not receive a single letter to tempt me back - I said to myself Deane is busy - as the time for Easter examinations approaches - by & by when he has his vacation I will surely hear from him - but vacation time come and passed by and still no letter - then I gave up - accepted the conditions as final - and took the digging in the dirt for consolation.

But I absolve you. If I and take such a spending trip rehears'd from cordial pecuniary thoughts" wouldn't I forget all about letter writing for a time? What a lot of real, live botanists you met - and how inspiring the experience must have been. Why! I have not seen one - not a single one - in a whole year! Do you wonder that I let go my hold once in a while and take the activities wherein I can find a kindly and loving sympathy in those about me. Mr. Thas does not just express what I wished to say,
- rather wherein I can give a candid sympathy - join with others in something that we can all work together in.

After our exceptionally mild winter much proved as a very disagreeable and gloomy month. The sun scarcely shone) his face from beginning to end - a long, dreary succession of cloudy days that has told fearfully on the vitality of the weak and aged. The half of April gone has not been much of an improvement. But we try to console ourselves with the reflection that when warm sunny weather does come - it will be with a bound - and we will go right out of winter into summer

- as in fact we usually do here in N. Ills -

Amas wedding - which you inquire - is set for June 10th - I believe. I do not like to think of her going away from her old home. And then it is in the man of Nature and I must accept the inevitable. We will all miss her very much. Our home life has been a kind of prolonged picnic.

We have not had enough money for each to be able to go their own way quite independent of the rest - so that out of our very deprivation has grown up a habit of mutual dependence. This has drawn us all into a very close family sympathy. Party through choice partly from circumstances beyond my control I have - for an American father at least - been able to make companions of my children to an extent <sup>rarely</sup> unchafed to parents at the present day - and I feel all the more the withdrawal of one - only hoping that her loyalty to the old home will be equally shown in the new - and find as loving appreciation -

Yours and all
Mrs. Ruth

Bebb, M. S. 1891. "Bebb, Michael Schuck Apr. 15, 1891." Michael Schuck Bebb letters to Walter Deane

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/159646>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/297948>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.