

Dear Deane,

Providence - Oct 31. 1909

No spooks or pumpkin-heads visited my couch last eve, yet wished I were intirely. Today the weather is splendid - to want out this glorious month, Hereafter I must be a real place to all the Club, what a work you have performed, we had, at last, two days free from a "cussing bout" as Shakespeare would, but my neck and back make up for it, Have not progressed far with the Thacker diary, I hate to read it, but I shall fetch it all in time, Mrs B, joins me in love & good wishes to you, Ever Truly Baileys
