

R. A. WEAVER
10 MULBERRY
PARIS, ILLINOIS, U.S.A.

19 December, 1926

Dear Mr. Deane:

This is, briefly, to tell you that I arrived home promptly and in good order. I went by way of Providence and had about two hours then between trains with Collins looking up data for the next floral tea report. The mysterious package came through my nicely and, scarcely unopened, repose with various others waiting for Christmas Eve, when it is our custom to look at our presents, as we spend Sunday with my mother.

Una and I have been very busy ever since I got home, finishing and type-writing the index to the current number of Rhodora. Yesterday we got it done and sent it off to Dr. Robinson - thirty-six typewritten pages.

Yours truly W. H.
John A. Stetson
W. H. & J. A. STETSON CO.

Of course, it will condense to five or six in the small type used for it in the magazine.

I hope that you have good news of your sister. - I wish you all good health to you both -

Sincerely, as always,

C. H. S.

By the way, our Christmas remembrance for you may be late. We tell you why afterward;
meanwhile, don't think we have forgotten you!

Weatherby, Charles Alfred. 1926. "Weatherby, Charles Alfred Dec. 19, 1926."
Walter Deane correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/163304>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/304151>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.