Walter Deane Esqr.

Dear Sir

I was about to send you a few specimens of Carices and Grasses some two months ago when I rather unexpectedly had to pack up everything and move. Since then I have been quite sick and have been unable to get at my specimens till lately. The package I send includes the only new carices and grasses I collected this year, together with one or two others that may be of interest. I sent the two species of carex to Prof Bailey named as they are in the package and he accepted them without comment.

You need not bother to pay for the specimens. I will get something in exchange for them sometime

Yours truly

Robert S. Williams
