

June 4 1886

My Dear Deane.

Yes, I expect that I am authority for Carex tribuloides var. reducta. I don't think of any other change which touches you.

A few days ago I sent Mr. Bebb four willows which puzzled me. One is new. He never saw it before. It is probably some hybrid. It grows in a great swamp near here, a swamp which contains two or three thousand acres. Have looked several times again for the willow, but without success. On a tramp for it yesterday I found Carex aquatilis for the first time — only a single specimen of it, however. I have found about 60 Carex just about here, among them C. formosa, the one of all others among manual species which I have had difficulty in securing. Shall lay aside specimens for you. Mr. Bebb volunteered to send me a collection of willows.

I haven't time to make a desiderata list this summer.

Regards from us both to yourself and Mrs. Deane. Mrs. B. expects to meet you both in Buffalo.

Yours as ever, L. H. Bailey, Jr.

Bailey, L. H. 1886. "Bailey, Liberty Hyde Jun. 4, 1886." Walter Deane correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/164238>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/305935>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.