

Stowell House,

Chas. W. Stowell, Prop.

JACKSON, MICHIGAN, Feb. 8 1887

My Dear Deane:

I have not heard from you in a long time, neither have I written. I have been very busy. Last Saturday we moved back to College, so that you must address me there hereafter. Yesterday morning I went to Hanover to attend an Institute, and now (9 PM) I am on my way home, spending the night in this thriving city of 20,000 people. As you will see by the enclosed program, the people at Hanover were bored last evening.

Next week I attend another,
and week after next another,
I go a good deal on this business.

School opens Feb. 22. I shall be glad to get into the ruts again.

Let me hear from you.

Yours &c
L. H. Bailey, Jr.
