

Summer of 1890

Boston, Sunday.

My Dear Deane:

Sorry you are sick, but hope you are well by this time.

I am going to N.Y. in the morning, and so cannot get at your plants. Dr. Kennedy came over for me Friday, and so I could not get to them.

Yesterday Dr. K. and myself went to the Cranberry bogs in Carver, above Wareham, and had a charming time. Wish you had been there. I found Carex stricta v. brevis (all range in Manual), C. straminea var.

cumulata, and many other interesting things, including Gaylussacia ~~frond~~ dumosa, which I had never seen before. The berries were overripe, of course, and so are of little value as specimens.

Hope you are better.

Yours -
Bailey

Bailey, L. H. 1890. "Bailey, Liberty Hyde 1890." Walter Deane correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/164204>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/306179>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.