

TO BE PUBLISHED IN
FOUR ILLUSTRATED VOLUMES

L. H. BAILEY, EDITOR
WILHELM MILLER, ASSISTANT

ITHACA, NEW YORK,

"17

1900

Mr. Walter Deane,

Dear Sir,

Prof. Bailey showed me your letter and I think your strictures none too severe. I came to the same conclusions of my own accord some time ago. I saw the mistake as soon as Mr. Williams sent me proof and I suggested that he should not print the article. Unfortunately I did not suggest hard enough. I would pay a good deal to suppress the article. It was an expression of ~~the~~ a mood and not, I trust, of the man; but the world does not understand that and judges a man by his lapses rather than by his steady work. I do not believe in antagonizing good people unnecessarily. The Dr has taught me a severe lesson and I am not likely to repeat the mistake. Prof. Bailey is the best tempered man in the world; he never scolds, nags or gets cross. He understands that I am more miserable from self-reproach than in any words he could say. Yours, Wilhelm Miller

Miller, Wilhelm. 1900. "Miller, Wilhelm Nov. 7, 1900 [From Wilhelm Miller to Walter Deane]." Walter Deane correspondence

View This Item Online: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/item/164211>

Permalink: <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org/partpdf/306515>

Holding Institution

Harvard University Botany Libraries

Sponsored by

IMLS

Copyright & Reuse

Copyright Status: Public domain. The BHL considers that this work is no longer under copyright protection.

This document was created from content at the Biodiversity Heritage Library, the world's largest open access digital library for biodiversity literature and archives. Visit BHL at <https://www.biodiversitylibrary.org>.