

SOME EMENDED NAMES OF NORTH AMERICAN BIRDS.

By ROBERT RIDGWAY.

The following names, adopted by the "Committee on Classification and Nomenclature" of the American Ornithologists' Union, represent new or hitherto unpublished combinations. They are here presented in order that the first known use of such combinations may be cited among the references which the committee has decided to give under each species, viz, the first pertinent binomial or trinomial appellation, and the first use of the name as adopted in the new list now being prepared by the committee.

When the species is one given in the writer's "Nomenclature of North American Birds" (Bulletin 21, U. S. National Museum), the corresponding name and number are given; but in the case of species described since the "Nomenclature" was published, the full reference to the original description is given.

The birds of this species from the interior valleys of California differ decidedly from those found along the west side of the coast range, being much less brown above, with the inner edges of the tertials light buff or buffy whitish, instead of rusty ochraceous. The coast bird being the true Californica, it becomes necessary to give a new name to that of the interior valleys, and the one above given has been selected as seemingly appropriate.)
