1881.
Berkeley, Cal. 15th Aug.

Mexicana*, though sufficiently distinct by its twice larger flowers, shrubby habit and leaves in pairs rather than verticils. But I dare not trust to Dr. Gray's description alone for my assurance that it is not his A. Schaffneri. It is far indeed from answering thereto, but I wish a comparison to be made, and, in Dr. Gray's absence, upon whom can I call but yourself?

Sincerely Yours
Peter L. Greene.
